for you?

MINDEN
GROSS LLP

Do we?

An ideal fit between articling student and law firm is an auspicious career start. You have to pick the best fit for you, then go for it.

We do.

The trickiest part of your articling decision is the determination of where you're most likely to thrive. Minden Gross emphasizes ideal fit. An inspired match optimizes the quality of our practice as well as the professional satisfaction of our lawyers.

Are we revealing our priorities? Absolutely, and there's more in the following pages (and on our website, www.mindengross.com) to help you decide whether we are an excellent fit for the start of your career.

Our strengths lead articling students in many directions.

Best of all, your own.

Minden Gross offers many practice areas where talented lawyers can turn sterling opportunities into golden ones. The multi-disciplinary teams we assemble offer articling students broad experience and valuable exposure while providing integrated service to clients.

In selecting Minden Gross, you are interested in a mid-size firm, large enough to serve multinational clients yet of a size where individual talent makes a noticeable contribution. It is an environment that values a head for business as well as for law, and that fully supports agile minds acting decisively. Our professional service delivery is marked by a distinctively business-like attitude towards results, accountability and cost-effectiveness.

In our non-hierarchical atmosphere, members of the firm work closely with one another. We believe that the calendar of professional, social, recreational and athletic events is all the more enjoyable at Minden Gross due to the hard-working, amicable relationships existing here.

You'll fit in at Minden Gross if you are spirited, dedicated, motivated and seeking a balance between your professional life and your non-career aspirations.

Give us a measure of yourself and how you've made the most of your potential so far. If we think that you'd fit well at Minden Gross, we look upon you as a prospective partner. Our commitment is to give our articling students the head start they deserve.

We are eager to know about the person you are, your initiative, your experiences and accomplishments. Tell us if you are drawn to Minden Gross for our business strength, size, style or some other reason. If you intend to practice in particular areas, share your interest with us.

We play a nurturing role in your success as a well-rounded lawyer. We observe as you develop your skills, rotating through each of the firm's major areas of practice. We support you in building confidence through hands-on experience with clients. We assist as you learn your capacity. You will develop relationships with some of the most outstanding lawyers in the profession and gain a foundation that will serve you throughout your career.

Articling at Minden Gross is a beginning that comes with recognition and respect. It is a career launch that provides the essentials and prerequisites and all the opportunity you can handle.
